

I – Studio conditions and operation

Founding Principle

The founding principle of studio allocation is to provide space for creation and proper work environments to contemporary dance professionals. This principle is applied with the community in mind; there is no individual appropriation of these spaces. These allocations consider priorities as follows: a company programmed by ADC or a partner of Passedanse, then by other organizations and/or projects supported by the City of Geneva.

Registration

Requests for studio spaces must be made beforehand by contacting ADC by email at: studios@adc-geneve.ch

Once schedules are posted, you may add your name in the available free spaces. You must also add your name and telephone number on the contact sheet.
